One2One RISK SOLUTIONS

Lancaster-Lebanon Intermediate Unit 13 (IU13) has partnered with Arthur J. Gallagher & Co (AJG) to provide educational institutions a program designed to fund and to manage accidental loss and damage to technology issued to students. The program utilizes a web-based platform designed to manage the enrollment, inventory, claims, and financial reporting functions of 1:1 programs—all in one, integrated cloud solution.

The program's success brings together three main strategies to help districts fund and manage loss and damage programs in the most organized and cost effective manner. These three strategies include the following:

Self-Funding - Parent Damage Waiver - Integrated Platform

Contract Information

The program is very flexible allowing for participants to be charged different amounts based on federal lunch status, and offers a flexible deductible schedule which can be tailored to meet an entity's specific needs. The program also provides an option which provides coverage for any student who would like to participate and one for those who would rather just pay for any damage that occurs to the device. The program is continually monitored and provides detailed reports to maximize district success.
